Cromwell, Conn. (April 8, 2014) – The Connecticut Cycling Advancement Program (CCAP) will honor the memory of Telserv founder, Charlie Boyle, with “The Charlie Boyle Award of Excellence.” Given to a youth committed to building the cycling community by fundraising, school engagement and participation in cycling events, this year’s recipient is sixteen year old Nick Sabatelli of Amity High School. Charlie’s son, Jimmy Boyle will present the “Charlie Boyle Award of Excellence” at the Breakaway Benefit Dinner, to support CCAP, Saturday April 12, 2014 6:00 pm at Middlesex Community College.

Charlie Boyle passed away on January 29, 2014 and is described by all who knew him as a loyal, compassionate leader, an entrepreneur, an avid supporter of youth sports and a dedicated family man. “The Charlie Boyle Award of Excellence” is a fitting tribute to the memory of a courageous man.

Riders interested in supporting The Connecticut Cycling Advancement Program and participating in the Breakaway Benefit Ride can register at
